

'India's Kashmir move foretold China standoff'

From: Azad Kaushik <naic.indocanadians@gmail.com>

Sent: August 21, 2020 8:59 PM

To: Letters to the Editor <lettertoed@thestar.ca>

Subject: Letter to Editor for publication

Dear Editor,

The write-up 'India's Kashmir move foretold China standoff' (Aug. 20) is at best ironic with the Star seemingly being a mouthpiece of China and anti-India forces stating "India has continued to undermine China's territorial sovereignty by unilaterally changing its domestic law". I wonder how China's territorial sovereignty could be infringed upon by an internal law change in India? Is India not a sovereign country to protect the interests of her people, just as any other country? While the AP journalist quoted Chinese and Kashmiri Muslims, absence of another viewpoint that of Indian government and Kashmiri Hindus failed to provide a balanced perspective. An obvious outcome of such reporting is loss of credibility that the Star should be concerned about.

Azad K Kaushik DSc (Paris)

President

National Alliance of Indo-Canadians

<https://Naic.ca>

+1 519 760 2297

Response:

From: Letters to the Editor <lettertoed@thestar.ca>

Subject: FW: Letter to Editor for publication

Date: August 24, 2020 at 11:03:24 AM EDT

To: "'naic.indocanadians@gmail.com'" <naic.indocanadians@gmail.com>

Forwarded to the Public Editor